WILLIAMS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

During the Holidays on New Years Day our teams, both girls and boys, will play the teams of Winslow in a basket-ball game at the school gymnasium. Come, join the crowd.

In the paper week before last the "Dull Pupil" was discussed by the editor of the Williams News. He said many good things and I sanctioned all of them. It is true that we have many dull pupils in every school due to affected organs. These affected organs tear down the energy of the individual and he is made listless and stupid. Adjust these affected organs and you give the pupil more energy with which to work. As has been stated; adenoids, poor eyes, poor hearing, bad teeth, and many other ailments cause a pupil to be less energetic than he would otherwise be. It is a shame to allow a child to go through school a dull one on account of these ailments.

I have a proposition to put before the parents of our school. Physicians and Dentists have agreed to examine each child in our school to find out what these ailments are. In case the child is needing treatment it would be no more than right to patronize these persons who are to examine the children. They will charge nothing for the examination if they are patronized. The Physicians and Dentists have not solicited their work; but they have been asked to do it for the betterment of our school. Think this matter over and we shall probably call a meeting to consider the question. Yours truly, A. W. Youngblood.

NEW MEXICO EXPOSITION COMMISSION TO AWARD $20,000 CONTRACT

On belated Santa Fe train No. 6 passing thru Williams Wednesday afternoon, the New Mexico Exposition Commission member were passengers, accompanied by their architect, I. H. Rapp, who had with him Mrs. Rapp and daughter Helen. The Commission was on its way to San Diego to award the contract for the New Mexico building for which the New Mexico Legislature appropriated $20,000 and which is to house exhibits valued at $100,000 as far as value can be placed upon such priceless displays as that which will be made by the School of American Archaeology and which will include the greatest collection of prehistoric and ethnological relics ever sent to an exposition. How New Mexico men of wealth view the proposition may be gauged from the fact that one citizen, Frank Springer of Las Vegas, a scientist of world wide fame, has given $10,000 for mural paintings to adorn the great auditorium, which with a roof garden, a patio, cloisters, and campaniels is to be a feature of the structure. The pictures are to illustrate the life and achievements of St. Francis de Assisi the patron saint of New Mexico. The New Mexico building will be modeled on lines of the 300 year old mission church at Acoma and the Franciscan church in the Indian pueblo of Chichiti.

Col. Ralph E. Twitchell, attorney for the Santa Fe railway is president of the commission, which gives its time and labor to the state without compensation. Paul A. F. Walter, a veteran newspaper man, is secretary of the commission. The other members are: Dr. J. J. Shuler, of Raton; District attorney M. T. Vigil of Albuquerque; Samuel T. Clark of Deming and Guy A. Reed, a journalist of Colorado.

Another important change is that on and after March 16, 1914, the parcel post service shall be extended so as to include books.

The parcel post system is a cheap expeditious, and efficient means for the transportation of parcels of merchandise, farm and factory products, and miscellaneous articles. You should investigate the C. O. D. features and the low insurance fees.

MACKAY ON DIVORCEMENT OF AMERICAN TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO.

New York.— Clarence Mackay the president of the Mackay companies being interviewed on the separation by the attorney general of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and Western Union Telegraph company:

It has been a bitterly fought contest. The result is a gratifying solution of the whole trouble. We hope and believe it will work out so that no further cause for complaint may exist, on the part of the public or on our part. Anybody with any perspective at all, could have seen during the past few years that there would be an end to a huge combination whose chief purpose was to throttle competition in order to control and monopolize. We feel grateful to the Administration and particularly to attorney-general McReynolds for the results. The department of justice took the matter up on its own initiative and without any attempt to shift or evade responsibility. The attorney-general has brought about this complete solution.

JAMES ROSS INJURED

James Ross, star center for the school Basket Ball team had two fingers on his left hand almost torn off Wednesday morning, while assisting to move a heavy box downstairs into the school gymnasium. A remnant of skin saved the two injured fingers.

A shipment of new equipment for the school gymnasium had just arrived and James was assisting in moving it downstairs into the gym. Among the goods was one very heavy box containing a double fourteen foot ladder for gym work. It is estimated that the box weighed fully three hundred and fifty pounds. James was supporting the lower end of this box as they descended the stairs. On the last step his foot slipped and the box dropped, landing on the two middle fingers of his left hand. The flesh was torn from the finger ends leaving the bare bone, except for one shred of skin that remained on each finger.

Dr. Melick who dressed the wound stated that the shred of skin remaining made it unnecessary to amputate the finger ends, and that it would start the flesh growing again over the bones.

The accident puts James out of the Winslow game New Years day. This is a great disappointment to him added to the suffering and inconvenience resulting from the wound. The team is now badly crippled.

Notice — If any children did not get candy at the M. E. Church, it was due to an oversight, and if those children will call at the parsonage they may get it now.

Two boys were found to be delinquent before Judge Perkins on Monday and by him paroled to M. J. Rounseville. This is another example of the need of a Probation officer. Boys of the age of these two are removed from the stern realities of the criminal courts but should be placed in charge of a probation officer, who will act as a father to them and be a friend to the court.

Mrs. H. Joiner's mother and sister from Denver are spending the holidays with her.

J. D. Drown from Jerome came in Tuesday to spend Christmas with his friends in Williams.

Christmas will be fittingly celebrated at the Parish House by services at 10 A. M. Rev. J. L. Mead will preach. Good Christmas music will be furnished by the choir. Celebration of Holy Communion. You are invited to attend.

At 6 P. M. in the Parish House there will be a Christmas Party for the Sunday School and Congregation of the Episcopal Church. There will be a tree for the children after which the older folks will indulge in dancing.

A FORESTRY KICK

(Contributed)

Williams, Arizona, 12-13-13.
Editor of the Williams News:—

Dear Sir:—

As you seem to have space enough to dedicate one whole column to the U. S. Forester Henry S. Graves, let us take up the matter where the Honorable Gentleman left off by first taking what we suppose he intends for you and I to believe would be his future text in governing and the treatment of homesteaders and occupants of the forest and the vast grazing and brush lands included in the reserves. First note if you will his instructions from Sec. of Agriculture, Houston as follows:

"Establish permanent boundaries. Classify your lands segregate the agricultural land and fix right limits for what is needed as protective and productive forests. Develop permanent policies based on a full recognition of lasting public interests, and settled forestry practice fitted to the individual needs of each forest and locality. Study efficiency; make any change necessary for this purpose, but make no changes that are not clearly called for in the public interest. Carry out your plans for the development and increasing use of the forests; but, above all, make each forest work for community building and local as well as general welfare. We must always have in mind the men and women who are building up a new country and laying the foundation for prosperous, thriving commonwealths. We must try to study their needs and see where and how the forests can help them. But we must not cease to guard effectively against the evils of private privilege and monopolistic control of resources now the property of the public."

The Secretary's first orders permanent boundaries; second, classification of lands and segregation of agricultural lands; 3rd limits as protected and productive forest 4th, establish a permanent policy fully in the interests of the public "make no changes not necessary to the public interest or clearly call for in these interests," plow to develop and increase the use of forests but above all make each forest work for community upbuilding, and local as well as general welfare. We must always have in mind the men and women who are building up a new country. To study their needs and make the forests subservient to their needs—guarding against evils of private privilege and monopoly of these public utilities."

Could our western settlers as instructions to the Forest Service ask any fairer or more explicit terms? Does this mean a perpetuation of Pinchos and Gra issues as have been practiced a long term of years? Does it mean a settler or homesteader applicant can be red taped until he quits disgust or that his application rejected forthwith the nonresident grazing monopolists order the Forest Service to reject all claims under any pretext and such subterfuges as "the land is not chiefly suitable for agriculture or the land needed for Forest purposes. Does the Secretary mean that the grounds can be continually stocked by the favored few their herds permitted to increase and continue this in the future has been, and is the practice even rejecting the few milk cows graze at the same time boasting the boundless generosity of government in permitting the settler to fence and graze his cows upon his own homestead. While on the other hand corporations with from ten to (Continued on third page.
